Upgrading Authoritarianism in the Arab World. One of the most firmly entrenched

As society became more complex in the nineteenth century, social planning became a top-down enterprise delegated to experts and bureaucrats. For instance, it must revive federalism to permit different jurisdictions to test different policies so that their results can be evaluated, and it must legalize information markets to permit people to bet on what the consequences of a policy will be even before that policy is implemented.

Our challenge is not different today, but it is more urgent because the acceleration of technology is now a fact of life. Princeton University Press.
